contained within the offer – this means that if the Client withdraws an offer to the Candidate before it is accepted for any reason, other than suitability, the Agency shall nevertheless be entitled to Introduction Fee.

3.5. Where prior to the commencement of the Engagement the Agency and the Client agree that the Engagement will be on the basis of a fixed term of less than 12 months, the Introduction Fee will apply pro-rata. If the Client (a) extends the Engagement beyond the initial fixed term or (b) re-Engages the Candidate within 9 calendar months from the date of termination of the agreed period of the fixed term Engagement, then the Client shall be liable to pay a further Introduction Fee based on the additional Remuneration applicable for (a) the extended period of Engagement or (b) the period of the second and any subsequent Engagement, subject to the Client not being liable to pay a greater sum in Introduction Fees than the Client would have been liable for under clause 3.3 had the Candidate first been Engaged for 12 months or more.

3.9. In the event that any Agency staff with whom the Client has had personal dealings accepts an Engagement with the Client while employed by the Agency or within 3 months of leaving the Agency, the Client shall be liable to pay the Agency a fee equivalent to the Introduction Fee calculated in accordance with clause 3.3. For the avoidance of doubt, the Client shall not be entitled to a refund for any fee due under this clause 3.9 in any circumstances.

3.10 For the avoidance of doubt, the Client shall be liable to pay an Introduction Fee (or any other type of fee agreed with the Agency), notwithstanding a change in control (as defined in section 1124 of the Corporation Tax Act (2010)) and the accrued rights and liabilities of the parties under this clause 3 shall survive such change in control and continue in full force and effect.
